ABOUT

Hannah has been working with Wealth Design since June 2015 and in 2018 she co-founded Wealth Design Marketing which delivers marketing initiatives in-house, and offers external branding, marketing and training to other professional services firms.

She heads up communications internal and external and also focuses on the client experience to ensure clients are delighted which underpins the business reputation and growth.

CAREER HISTORY

Hannah has an entrepreneurial background with a specialism in the financial services sector. After graduating she spent a year in Zurich in banking as a project manager after and then founded and ran a web design company for 6 years. In 2005 she founded a specialist marketing agency which she moved her clients into in 2018 as she headed up Wealth Design Marketing.

Alongside running the marketing consultancy she lectured and has written courses at Masters and Undergraduate degree level in both marketing and management. She has also worked on entrepreneurship support programmes both as a business mentor and delivering training.
