

ABOUT

Gay holds Chartered Financial Planner status and is a Fellow of the Personal Finance Society, the highest qualification in the industry.

She has worked with Company Directors and their families since joining the industry straight after University. Firstly, as a pensions administrator then as an Independent Financial Adviser. Her specialities include advising on Small Selfadministered Schemes (SSAS) and Self- Invested Pension Schemes (SIPP).

She has always worked on the basis that the connection between an adviser and the client is developed from trust. Gay is passionate about education within the industry, promotion of its professionalism and teaching youngsters in schools about money. She finds the increasing engagement of those in their early careers when discussing pensions rewarding.

Gay left university to join Sun Life as its first graduate to be recruited outside London. She has been a Financial Adviser and Professional Trustee since the mid-1990s specialising in advising Directors of SMEs on self-administered pension schemes.
